

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

| Kendall, NY

Visit www.sharoncassanoloachman.com/ for photos, and an author bio.

Subject line: Award-Winning #1 Best-Selling Author writes a contemporary 1940's who dun it? heart-pounding, page-turning adventure

Man with the Sand Dollar Face by Sharon CassanoLochman

Summary:

Hattie Crumford, a quirky widow in her early sixties, takes her first job answering the phone in a private investigator's office. Running a little late one morning, she discovers an agitated man pacing at the office door. He insists he must see the PI immediately. In the midst of his anxious demands, he clutches his chest and collapses. Shocked, Hattie runs for help. Upon returning, the man has disappeared. Detective Hugo Gabby and Hattie's boss, Wallace C. Woodard, are skeptical and dismissive of her story. To prove it's not her wild imagination, Hattie sets out to find the missing man using only the cryptic note he left in his place and his last words as her clues.

Everything hinges on the Man with the Sand Dollar Face.

Award-Winning #1 Best-Selling Author Sharon CassanoLochman delivers compassionate insight into life after sixty and the importance of the human connection in this fast-paced adventure with a 1940's who-dun-it? flair in Man with the Sand Dollar Face.

"A vibrant and new voice in crime fiction--Sharon CassanoLochman has crafted an exhilarating mystery set among the sweet-smelling streets of the French Quarter. Brimming with humor and suspense, THE MAN WITH THE SAND DOLLAR FACE is an exciting debut." - J.R. Angelella, author of ZOMBIE: A NOVEL

"Quite captivating, so much so that I could not put it down after being halfway through."-Dixon Van Winkle, Music Producer and Four-Time Grammy Winner.

To learn more about Award-Winning #1 Best-Selling Author Sharon CassanoLochman visit www.sharoncassanoloachman.com.